The Ambrose Hotel

The Ambrose Hotel, (1255 20th St, Santa Monica, CA 90404; 310.315.1555) the first hotel in the country to earn LEED for Existing Buildings Certification in 2007, has officially reopened. It's a rustic, comfortable experience in the heart of Santa Monica that is a long-time member of the Green Hotels Association and is a Certified Green Business since 2008.

The intimate, boutique style hotel is different than cookie-cutter chain hotels and is a combo of elegance and function with craftsman-influenced decor that is comfortable and all about relaxation. Each of the 77 rooms has LATHER body, face and hair products, handmade from unique, natural ingredients and pure essential oils, complimentary Wi-Fi, bathtubs or walk-in showers, balconies, terraces and vaulted ceilings with fans.
